Slides	Slides will be posted to eCampus.
Helpful Resources	Games of Strategy, by Dixit, Skeath, Reiley, Norton 2014 (good for examples) Game Theory: A Nontechnical Introduction to the Analysis of strategy, Roger A Mccain, World Scientific 2014 (good for examples) Game Theory: An Introduction, by Steven Tadelis, Princeton University Press 2013 (more advanced, especially if you are considering graduate school)

Grading Policy

20% Homework (due every Friday)
25% Exam 1 (Mon, Jun 8th)
25% Exam 2 (Mon, Jun 22nd)
30% Final (Mon, Jun 29th)

Grading Scale

A = 90-100, B = 80-89, C = 70-79, D = 60-69, F = <60

Homework

- There will be 5 homework assignments. Each assignment is worth 4% of your grade.
- Homework assignment will be posted on eCampus.
- Assignments is due every Friday at 11:59 pm CST.
- Late homework will not be accepted for any reasons that do not comply with university regulations. (See Student Rule 7: <https://student-rules.tamu.edu/rule07/>)
- If you have any question regarding the grading of your assignment, please contact me within one week of getting your assignment returned. There will be NO grade change after one week.

Exam

- No make-up exams will be given without a university-approved and documented excuse. Student Rule 7 (<https://student-rules.tamu.edu/rule07/>) governs attendance policy and excused absences. Per Student Rule 7, you must notify me or the Department of Economics main office prior to the exam if such notification is feasible. In cases where advance notification is not feasible (e.g. accident, or emergency) notification must be provided by the end of the second working day after the absence. This notification should include an explanation of why notice could not be sent prior to the class. Non-excused absences will result in a zero for that portion of your grade.
- No grade will be communicated by phone or email. Likewise, grade issues cannot be discussed by phone or email. If you have question regarding the grading of your exam, please contact me to schedule a zoom meeting no later than one week after the exam is returned. There will be NO grade change after one week.

Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA)

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you believe you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please contact Disability Services, located in the Disabilities Building at the Student Services at White Creek complex on Campus or call 845-1637. For additional information visit <http://disability.tamu.edu>

Academic Integrity

"An Aggie does not lie, cheat, or steal, or tolerate those who do."

Upon accepting admission to Texas A&M University, a student immediately assumes a commitment to uphold the Honor Code, to accept responsibility for learning, and to follow the philosophy and rules of the Honor System. Students will be required to state their commitment on examinations, research papers, and other academic work. Ignorance of the rules does not exclude any member of the TAMU community from the requirements or the processes of the Honor System. For additional information please visit: <https://aggiehonor.tamu.edu/>

Title IX and Statement on Limits to Confidentiality

Texas A&M University and the College of Liberal Arts are committed to fostering a learning environment that is safe and productive for all. University policies and federal and state laws provide guidance for achieving such an environment. Although class materials are generally considered confidential pursuant to student record policies and laws, University employees — including instructors — cannot maintain confidentiality when it conflicts with their responsibility to report certain issues that jeopardize the health and safety of our community. As the instructor, I must report the following information to other University offices if you share it with me, even if you do not want the disclosed information to be shared:

- Allegations of sexual assault, sexual discrimination, or sexual harassment when they involve TAMU students, faculty, or staff.

These reports may trigger contact from a campus official who will want to talk with you about the incident that you have shared. In many cases, it will be your decision whether or not you wish to speak with that individual. If you would like to talk about these events in a more confidential setting, you are encouraged to make an appointment with the Student Counseling Service (<https://scs.tamu.edu/>). Students and faculty can report concerning, non-emergency behavior at <http://tellsomebody.tamu.edu>.
